HOW THE OWNERS OF AUTOMOBILES FEEL RE FLORAL PARADE

Director-General James D. Dougherty recently asked the automobile owners of Honolulu to express their opinions regarding the feasibility of having a floral parade in connection with the 1915 Mid-Pacific carnival. Here is what a few of the owners have to say:

—P. C. JONES: I will contribute $25, but I have no car.

—J. A. McCANDLESS: I favor the floral parade but would not participate.

—PAYMETER P. J. WILSON: Being detached, will not be here for the floral parade in 1915.

—WILLIAM WEINRICH: I favor the old-style, one-day affair. Perhaps I would enter a floral float.

—R. C. SMITH: I am in favor of the floral parade, but my automobile is not suitable for a parade.

—C. H. DICKEY: I would be in favor of a floral parade if real flowers were used in the decorating.

—MARSTON CAMPBELL: I do not favor a floral parade. Reason: Previous experience and expense.

—LESTER PETRIE: I favor the floral parade but cannot afford to participate. There are plenty who can, though.

—F. J. LOWREY: I favor a floral parade, if not commercialized. I probably would not participate as I had a car in last year.

—F. E. THOMPSON: I am in favor of a floral parade confined to cars decorated other than as commercial advertisements.

—SIDNEY R. JORDAN: I favor the floral parade, but would not participate. I have participated in three previous carnivals.

—ALBERT WATERHOUSE: I do not favor a floral parade every year; perhaps one every five years. I would not participate in 1915.

—E. FAXON BISHOP: I do not favor the floral parade and would not participate. It is too much work and too much expense on a single individual.

—A. W. VAN VALKENBERG: I do not favor a floral parade for 1915. Let's have a County Fair by the military people and offer them every assistance.

—W. A. BOWEN: I favor the floral parade, but would not participate as I am unable to run a car. Too green at it. And cannot well undertake the expense, anyway. We have a Ford.

—DR. H. P. NOTTAGE: Tourists can see on the coast more elaborate floral parades with real flowers than we can give them; but they cannot see there the distinctive Hawaiian pageant that they expect to find here.

—COYNE FURNITURE CO.: We favor the floral parade but cannot go into it. We have two motor trucks and one large automobile we will lend if anyone will decorate. We also will furnish drivers for same.

—F. M. SWANZY: "Floral parade" is a misleading title for "parade of decorated motor cars." That "parade" has usually been an attractive feature of Washington's birthday celebration and as such it may be well continued, but I do not favor calling it what it is not. I could not participate.

—A. R. CUNHA: I am in favor of a floral parade in 1915. I would like to participate, but cannot.

—LIEUT. ELLIS LANDO, U. S. N.: Favor a floral parade? I am on the fence. I would not be able to participate in 1915.

—C. A. DE CEW (Wahala): Do I favor a floral parade. Decidedly yes.

—A. R. S. MCCORMICK: I would be in favor of a floral parade if it is made a "floral parade" similar to that held in Pasadena.

—C. W. ASHFORD: I am in favor of a floral parade, but would not participate.

tielate. The expense of putting in a well-decorated car is very considerable and only the well-to-do can really afford it. We must therefore look to them to furnish a spectacle.

—E. W. QUINN: I am in favor of a floral parade—but no fake one. I might participate.

—G. N. ROTHWELL: I am in favor of a floral parade, and I would participate.

—W. M. TEMPLETON (Wahila): I am in favor of a floral parade, and would suggest the addition of some of the features of the annual parade of the "Veiled Prophet" at St. Louis and the "Mardi Gras" at New Orleans. This would insure the permanency and popularity of it as an annual fest.

Eighteen men were arrested in Terre Haute, Ind., charged with fraud in the recent election for senator and congressman.

Charles Sieberhut of Patchogue, L. I., about to enlist in the German army, was arrested when a shot fired by him in practice just missed two children.
